WELFARE LAW.

OVER 5 BILLION CHICKENS

are raised every year in Europe, confined in intensive farming systems with less space than an A4 sheet of paper each. 330 million day-old chicks are ground up or gassed in hatcheries annually, and hundreds of millions of fishes, turkeys, rabbits, and other animals are raised without any specific legislation to provide even a basic level of protection.

For 84% of European citizens, across all political affiliations, farmed animals are not adequately protected in Europe (Eurobarometer 2023).

Investigation after investigation, footage by NGOs reveal that the current European legislation, outdated in light of recent scientific studies, forces billions of animals to endure the suffering of intensive farming each year.

Only a revision of all the European animal «welfare» legislation can put an end to cages, farming without outdoor access, mutilations, etc.

You have the power to steer European agriculture towards a model that is more respectful for billions of animals, a model demanded by the vast majority of Europeans, and one shielded from international competition through higher standards combined with mirror measures.
